University of Wisconsin Badgers • 2011 NCAA Frozen Four Champions

Despite UW outshooting BU 10-4 in the first period, the teams remained locked in a scoreless tie after the opening 20 minutes. The Badgers finally put one past Sperry at the 2:25 mark of the second period when Prevost redirected a shot from the point to give Wisconsin a 1-0 lead. Sophomore Stefanie McKeough passed the puck to fellow defenseman Alev Kelter who ripped a shot from the blue line. Waiting at the crease, Prevost tipped the shot past Sperry.

Wisconsin then took a 2-0 lead with 4:26 remaining in the second period when junior forward Brooke Ammerman converted the eventual game-winner on the power-play. Senior Meghan Duggan fed the puck to sophomore Brianna Decker down low, and Decker poked an attempt toward goal. After Sperry stopped Decker's shot, Ammerman slid the puck past her and into the net.

Boston University (27-7-4) answered just 24 seconds later with a goal from Marie-Philip Poulin. The teams entered the second intermission with Wisconsin holding a 2-1 lead.

With just 3:23 remaining, the Badgers extended their lead back to two goals when Mallory Deluce put in Hillary Knight's rebound. The Terriers pulled Sperry immediately following Deluce's goal and again with 2:33 to go. BU fired five shots, including two stopped by Rigsby, before Prevost secured the victory and Wisconsin's fourth national championship with an empty-net goal at 19:42.

Sperry made 32 saves to lead the Terriers to a national runner-up finish in just the sixth season of the program.

The Badgers defeated Boston College, 3-2, in the NCAA Women's Frozen Four semifinal round on Friday (March 18) night while Boston University beat Cornell, 4-1.

Four Badgers were named to the 2011 NCAA Women's Frozen Four All-Tournament Team. Duggan joined Prevost, Ammerman and Kelter in receiving all-tournament honors. Duggan and Knight were also named co-MVPs of the tournament. Boston College goaltender Molly Schaus and Boston University defenseman Catherine Ward completed the all-tournament team.

WCHA Unveils All-New Player Pages at WCHA.com Exciting New Feature Continues Evolution of League's New Web Site

MADISON, Wis. – The Western Collegiate Hockey Association is pleased to announce the launch of unique individual member team player pages at the league's all-new official web site - WCHA.com. The WCHA teamed up with SportDesigns.com last summer to begin the transformation of the league's home on the web, which was unveiled at the start of the 2010-11 campaign.

The individual player pages feature biographical information, photos and statistics of each student-athlete playing in the WCHA.

"This is another exciting advancement for the Association as our all-new WCHA.com continues to evolve," said Commissioner Bruce M. McLeod.

"These player pages provide another great resource of information to the media and public and will also give each of our member team student-athletes their own unique page at WCHA.com. Combined with the launch earlier this season of the mobile WCHA.com platform, the mobile league and national scoreboards with live scores and statistics, and an all-new on-line store at TheWCHAShop.com, the all-new WCHA.com has been a tremendous boost for us."

To visit the individual player pages, go to WCHA.com, then click on the listings for 'WCHA Team Pages'. From there, go to the respective team roster and then click on each player's name within that roster.

Player names on roster pages and all statistic pages also now link to individual stat pages and player names in game stories, box scores and future press releases also link to the player pages.

Ohio State Coaching Legend Jackie Barto Retires

COLUMBUS, Ohio – Jackie Barto, the first coach of women's hockey at Ohio State, has decided to retire from coaching after 12 seasons with the Buckeyes and 27 years in the coaching profession, Gene Smith, Ohio State associate vice-president and director of athletics, announced Tuesday (April 19).

Barto, a 1984 graduate of Providence University with a degree in business management, was hired at Ohio State in 1999 to start the women's hockey program after spending five seasons as the head coach at her alma mater.

"It has been an incredible opportunity to start the program and see it develop over 12 years," Barto said. "I want to thank (former Ohio State director of athletics) Andy Geiger and Archie Griffin (former Ohio State assistant athletics director and current president of the OSU Alumni Association) for giving me the opportunity."

Barto is currently exploring other career opportunities.

"I have worked with tremendous people and outstanding student-athletes," Barto said of her time in Columbus. "I am proud of what we have accomplished over the last 12 years. I think our program is in a good spot right now. I've enjoyed working with Gene Smith and Chris Schneider (associate AD-sport administration). They have been extremely supportive of both the program and me over the years.

"I have been coaching for 27 years and I've always wondered when I'd know (if it was time to retire)," Barto said. "Today I can honestly say 'I know.'"

Schneider said Barto has left her mark on the program.

"I consider it a privilege to have had the opportunity to work with Coach Barto for the past five seasons," Schneider said. "She is a great coach and an even better person. I thank Jackie for all of her hard work and dedication that she has given to this university and wish her the best in her future."

Ohio State will immediately begin a national search for just its second head coach in the sport of women's hockey.

Barto's Ohio State Highlights:

- Jackie Barto coached more than 500 games in her career and ranked eighth in career victories among NCAA Division I coaches (following 2010-11 season).
- Barto developed an Olympic gold medalist in Tessa Bonhomme (Canada), a silver medalist in Lisa Chesson (United States) and two-time bronze medalist in Emma Laakonen (Finland). Current Buckeye Minttu Tuominen also played for Team Finland in the Olympics during her freshman season. Current Buckeyes Natalie Spooner (Canada), Tuominen (Finland) and Annie Svedin (Sweden) along with Bonhomme (Canada) are currently completing at the World Championships in Switzerland.
- The 2006-07 season was a record-setting one for Barto and the Buckeyes. Ohio State reached the 20-win mark for the first time in program history, finishing with a 20-13-4 mark and setting the record for the Buckeyes' longest unbeaten streak at 10 games (9-0-1, Oct. 28-Dec. 8). Ohio State also posted a team-best 30 points in the WCHA standings (13-11-4). The Buckeyes took advantage of home ice with a 12-5-3 record at OSU Ice Rink. After finishing fourth in the league standings, the Buckeyes played host to the WCHA first round playoffs for the first time under the league's new playoff format. OSU swept Minnesota State in the best-of-three series and advanced to the WCHA semifinals at Ridder Arena in Minneapolis against eventual national champion Wisconsin. The Buckeyes completed the season as the 10th-ranked team in both the USCHO.com and USA Hockey national polls.
- The Buckeyes proved in the 2001-02 season they were a force to be reckoned with on the national scene by defeating several nationally-ranked teams. OSU upset No. 3 New Hampshire and No. 4 St. Lawrence and also tied No. 6 Dartmouth. Barto guided two players to five post-season honors. Jeni Creary was named the WCHA Rookie of the Year and was an All-WCHA First Team selection after leading the nation in scoring for the first half of the season. Laakonen earned JOFA/AHCA Second Team All-America accolades and All-WCHA Second Team honors despite missing 10 games while representing her native Finland at the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.
- In just its second season, Barto's young Buckeye squad took center stage at the WCHA championship in March 2001. Fifth-seeded Ohio State bulldozed past No. 4 St. Cloud State and blanked No. 1 Minnesota to advance to the championship final where the Buckeyes fell to eventual national champion Minnesota Duluth. OSU's run for a postseason title was a fitting end to their second-half campaign, which saw them skate to an 18-16-3 overall record, including 11-10-3 in the WCHA, and finish No. 8 in the national polls. Barto guided the program through a difficult first half of the 2000-01 season before engineering an impressive turnaround midway through the year. The Buckeyes were 12-5-1 in their last 18 contests and finished 7-1-0 at home after the December hiatus, with their only loss at the OSU Ice Rink coming against nationally-ranked Minnesota. They rode a six-game winning streak, including five shutouts, into their championship game against Minnesota Duluth.
- While at Ohio State Barto Coached: Four Olympians ... Four AHCA All-America honors ... Five Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award Top 10 Finalists ... One WCHA Player of the Year (Tessa Bonhomme) ... One WCHA Defensive Player of the Year (Tessa Bonhomme) ... One WCHA Student-Athlete of the Year (Emma Laakonen) ... Two WCHA Rookies of the Year (Hokey Langan, Jeni Creary) ... Seven First Team All-WCHA ... Seven Second Team All-WCHA ... One Third Team All-WCHA ... 82 WCHA All-Academic Team honorees ... 21 WCHA Scholar-Athlete honorees ... 138 OSU Scholar-Athlete honorees.

Mark Johnson of Wisconsin Named AHCA Women's Division 1 Coach of the Year Badgers' Coach Earns Honor for Fourth Time; Leads UW to Fourth National Championship in Six Years

For his efforts in leading the University of Wisconsin to its fourth NCAA Women's Frozen Four title in six years, Mark Johnson has been named by his peers as the AHCA Women's Division I Coach of the Year for 2010-11.

The Badgers compiled a record of 37-2-2 this year, winning both the WCHA regular season and tournament titles as well as the NCAA National Collegiate Championship. For Johnson, it is his fourth Coach of the Year Award, having been similarly honored in 2006, 2007 and 2009.

Wisconsin entered the NCAA tournament on a 24-game unbeaten streak, having last tasted defeat on November 28. The Badgers ended the year as they began. Unbeaten in its final 27 games (25-0-2), Wisconsin started the season 8-0. In the NCAA Championship, Wisconsin downed #5 Minnesota Duluth, 2-1, #3 Boston College, 3-2, and #2 Boston University, 4-1.

Johnson has a career record of 247-41-24 (.830) in eight seasons as head coach of the Badgers. (He was away for 2009-10 with the U.S. Olympic Team.) His winning percentage ranks him first among active NCAA Division I women's head coaches.

However, Johnson's fame in Madison began years before assuming his current role. A two-time All American and the school's all-time goal-scoring leader (125 goals in 125 games), Johnson led his Badgers to an NCAA title in 1977 and was WCHA MVP in 1979, before embarking on an impressive post-college career. A star on the 1980 "Miracle On Ice" U.S. Olympic Team, Johnson enjoyed a 11-year NHL career before retiring as a player and getting into coaching. He is the son of the late coaching icon, Bob Johnson, who coached at Colorado College and the University of Wisconsin, before winning two Stanley Cups with the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Johnson was assisted this season by Tracy DeKeyser, Jackie Friesen, and Mark Greenhalgh.

The runner-up for this year's AHCA Women's Division I Coach of the Year award was Brian Durocher of Boston University, whose Terriers lost to Wisconsin in the 2011 NCAA championship game, 4-1.

The Coach of the Year Award winners are chosen by members of the American Hockey Coaches Association (AHCA). Winners will receive their awards at the annual AHCA "Celebration of Women's Hockey" Banquet, held in conjunction with the AHCA Convention in Naples, Fla. This year's event is scheduled for Friday, April 29.

Wisconsin's Meghan Duggan Named 2011 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award Winner

ERIE, Pa. – University of Wisconsin senior forward Meghan Duggan was named the 2011 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award winner, honoring the Badger captain as the top player in NCAA Division 1 women's ice hockey, the USA Hockey Foundation announced on Saturday (March 19).

Duggan is the third Badger to receive the Patty Kazmaier award in the 14-year history of the honor. Foward Sara Bauer was Wisconsin's first honoree in 2006 and goaltender Jessie Vetter took home the award in 2009. Duggan is the fourth WCHA player to be honored. Minnesota's Krissy Wendell won the Kazmaier in 2005.

Minnesota goaltender Noora Raty, Wisconsin junior forward Hilary Knight and Minnesota Duluth forward Haley Irwin joined Duggan in the top 10 finalists for this year's award.

Along with Duggan, fellow top-three finalists Meghan Agosta of Mercyhurst and Kelli Stack of Boston College were honored at a brunch award ceremony at the Bayfront Convention Center in Erie, Pa., in conjunction with the 2011 NCAA Women's Frozen Four.

Selection criteria for the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award include outstanding individual and team skills, sportsmanship, performance in the clutch, personal character, competitiveness and a love of hockey. Consideration is also given to academic achievement and civic involvement.

Duggan was also named a Division 1 REEBOK Women's Hockey All-American by the American Hockey Coaches Association earlier in the week. She is also the 2011 WCHA Player of the Year, the WCHA Scoring Champion and an All-WCHA First Team honoree.

Duggan is currently tied for the national lead in points (86) and ranks second in the country in points per game (2.15), goals (39), assists (47), assists per game (1.18) and power-play goals (11). She also is third in short-handed goals (3), fourth in goals per game (0.97) and sixth in game-winning goals (6). (Note: Duggan completed the season with a nation's best 87 points for all games played – 39g, 48a.)

Duggan has rewritten the UW record book over her four-year career, most recently setting the UW single-season points record (86) with three points against Boston College in the national semifinal Friday night. Duggan is the Badgers' career leader in points (237), power-play goals (31) and plus-minus (+164), and she ranks second in goals (108), assists (129), shorthanded goals (5) and shots (574).

Off the ice, Duggan is a biology major interested in medical school. This season, she has volunteered at the Ronald McDonald House, the Children's Hospital and Second Harvest Foodbank of Southern Wisconsin. She has also participated in sled hockey and the annual UW Kids' Clinic.

Five players from the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, including three from national team champion Wisconsin, have been honored as 2011 Division I REEBOK Women's Hockey All-Americans, the American Hockey Coaches' Association (AHCA) announced the week of the Frozen Four.

Wisconsin senior forward Meghan Duggan, junior forward Hilary Knight and sophomore forward Brianna Decker were honored at a championship reception held in conjunction with the 2011 NCAA Women's Frozen Four in Erie, Pa.

Duggan and Knight were selected as first team All-Americans along with Minnesota Duluth defenseman Jocelyne Larocque, the WCHA defensive player of the year, while Decker and Minnesota goaltender Noora Rätty were second team honorees. The award marks the first All-American award for both Duggan and Decker; Knight picked up her second award after also being chosen as a first team honoree in 2009.

Wisconsin's three All-Americans this season marks the most since 2007 when Sara Bauer, Meaghan Mikkelsen and Bobbi-Jo Slusar were honored. The Badgers have had 11 players earn 18 All-American awards since 2001. Most recently, the Badgers had two All-Americans in Knight and Jessie Vetter in 2009.

Earlier this season, the trio of Decker, Duggan and Knight swept the All-WCHA First Team forward honors. Duggan was also named the WCHA Player of the Year. Larocque was also named the WCHA Outstanding Student-Athlete of the Year.

Wisconsin and Cornell led the way with three All-American honorees each. Five selections came from the WCHA, three each from the ECAC and Hockey East, and one from the CHA.

Kelly Nash Scores in Overtime to Lift Wisconsin to 2011 WCHA FINAL FACE-OFF Playoff Title

Senior Nets Game-Winner vs Minnesota at 14:11 of Overtime

by John Gilbert, for WCHA.com

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. – After all of Wisconsin's top guns had fired and fired 55 times to get the Badgers back into the WCHA FINAL FACE-OFF championship game, it was left to light-scoring senior Kelly Nash to shoot the 56th Badger shot at 14:11 of overtime to lift the Badgers to a 5-4 victory over Minnesota Saturday night.

Minnesota scored the first three goals of the game, and had a 4-2 lead after two, but Wisconsin's No. 1 ranked Badgers scored the last three. Madison Packer and Meghan Duggan scored third period goals to tie the game in the final seven minutes, and Nash, a third-line right wing from Bonita, Calif., just back this weekend after missing several games with an injury, caught a pass from Geena Prough in the slot and quickly snapped a shot that looked as good as anything her more prolific teammates might have fired. The puck zipped past the screening body of defenseman Anne Schleper and past Noora Rätty to hit the right edge and bring a stunning ending to the league playoff final.

"This is incredible. It's exciting for us," said Duggan, whose two goals in the game boost her season tally to 37. "I couldn't be happier that Kelly scored that goal. We were down 2-0 and it was deflating, but I knew we had it in us."

Wisconsin outshot Minnesota 56-30 for the game, and once the Badgers started rallying in the third period, it became a question of whether Golden Gopher goaltender Rätty could hold off the relentless Wisconsin shooters. She almost pulled it off.

"I didn't see the shot," said Rätty, a sophomore from Finland. "The pass came from the corner, and our 'D' screened me. It happens."

Both Wisconsin (34-2-2) and Minnesota (26-9-2) are assured of getting a Sunday invitation to the eight-team NCAA tournament, and both are virtually certain to be at home for next weekend's quarterfinals. But that's for the future; the intensity of the FINAL FACE-OFF title game will last for both teams.

"I've got to give our players a lot of credit," said Wisconsin coach Mark Johnson. "There were a couple of points in the game when we could have moved on to next week. But we took some energy from the last

6-8 minutes of the third period and carried it over to overtime. Then to have Kelly score that goal, it's great because her parent are here, and it gives her something to take away from this."

For the second straight game, Minnesota was the lower seed and had to wear the visiting maroon jerseys on its home Ridder Arena ice. At the start, it appeared the Gophers should consider switching permanently, because for the second straight game they played with offensive precision to take early command of the game. Just as they had done in beating Minnesota Duluth 4-2 in Friday's semifinals, when they spotted UMD a 1-0 lead and then scored four consecutive goals, the Gophers were able to disrupt the usually slick-passing Badgers, and Sarah Erickson personally staked them to a 2-0 lead at the first intermission.

Wisconsin took the game's first two penalties, and just four seconds after the second one expired, the Gophers struck for the first goal. Erickson was stationed in the slot and got a clean deflection on Megan Bozek's shot from the left point, directing it past goalie Alex Rigsby at 9:46. Five minutes later, Minnesota killed a penalty, and at 15:38, Erickson cut left-to-right across the slot, scoring for a 2-0 lead.

"Jen Schoullis was working hard to get the puck in the corner, as usual, and she threw it at the net," said Erickson. "I got my stick on it, and it hit the pipe and kinda went in before she (Rigsby) covered it up."

Wisconsin needed to get its explosive offense untracked in the second period, but instead, Sarah Davis caught a pass from fellow-freshman Kelly Terry and sped up the right boards. Remarkably, she outflanked the retreating Badger defense and kept on skating all the way to the net, scoring from close range to make it 3-0 at 10:20. The game was half over, but nobody anticipated the issue was settled, even at 3-0.

"Obviously, up 3-0, losing the game is not ideal," said Erickson.

Wisconsin stormed back, finally breaking through Raty's strong goaltending display. It took a power-play to get the Badgers going, as Brianna Decker scored her 33rd of the season on a wild tangle at the crease at 14:34.

"Raty is a great goaltender, and we were a little nervous," said Decker.

Suddenly, just :38 seconds later, Badger scoring leader Duggan converted a neat set-up at the goal-mouth to close it to 3-2.

"Anytime you score a goal it creates energy," said Johnson.

But Minnesota regained its composure, and a two-goal lead, when Schoullis scored on a scramble at the crease at the other end of the rink with 1:47 left in the middle period. That was a huge goal, because at 4-2, it gave Minnesota a 2-2 standoff for the period, despite being outshot 16-4 by Wisconsin.

However, the third period saw the Badgers increase pressure, and the victory became a question of whether the Gophers could hold off all that firepower as the Badgers outshot them 18-9 in the third period. They did an admirable job of weathering the pressure for 13 minutes, but at 13:38, the Badgers kept the puck in on the left side, and Madison Packer swatted the puck out of the air to scored from the right edge and trim the score to 4-3.

Barely a minute later, the determined Badgers tied the game, as Duggan scored her second of the game and 37th of the season. Fittingly, the WCHA women's player of the year extended the FINAL FACE-OFF championship game to overtime. And, perhaps more fittingly, a popular senior just back from an injury, won it.

Nash, Duggan Lead WCHA All-Tournament Team

Wisconsin's Brianna Decker was named most valuable player of the 2011 WCHA FINAL FACE-OFF tournament, while three of her teammates were named to the six-player all-tournament team.

Kelly Nash, whose goal in overtime carried Wisconsin to a 5-4 victory over Minnesota in the title game, after getting two assists in the 3-0 semifinal victory over North Dakota, was joined by teammates Meghan Duggan, who scored twice in the final to force overtime, and defenseman Geena Prough. Minnesota goaltender Noora Raty, who faced 56 shots in the title game, after beating Minnesota Duluth 4-2 on Friday, was also named, along with Gophers forward Amanda Kessel, and defenseman Megan Bozek.

The WCHA Coach of the Year Award for 2010-11 went to Wisconsin's Mark Johnson. It is the fourth time Johnson has either won or shared the award. In his seven years at Wisconsin, Johnson has an .815 winning percentage. He took a sabbatical to coach the United States team to a silver medal at the Winter Olympics in Vancouver 2010. The conference also today released the 2010-11 All-WCHA Academic Team, comprised of 97 student-athletes representing all eight WCHA women's member institutions. See page three for the complete list.

Earlier today, USA Hockey, Inc., announced that four WCHA players – Wisconsin forwards Duggan and Knight, Minnesota Duluth forward Irwin and Minnesota goaltender Rätty – were among the 10 finalists for the 2011 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, given each year to the top player in women's Div. 1 collegiate hockey.

Conference member-team head coaches and assistant coaches vote for the WCHA individual award winners. The WCHA Defensive Player of the Year Award is chosen by the head coaches, while the WCHA Outstanding Student-Athlete of the Year is selected by the institutional faculty representatives.

UW's Duggan, UMD's Irwin, UW's Knight, UM's Raty Among 10 Finalists Named for 2011 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award

14th Annual Award to Be Presented March 19 in Erie, Pa.

Release courtesy USA Hockey, Inc.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. – The USA Hockey Foundation today announced the 10 finalists for the 2011 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, presented by Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine. The award, annually bestowed upon the top player in NCAA Division 1 women's ice hockey, will be presented at a brunch ceremony on March 19 at the Bayfront Convention Center in Erie, Pa., in conjunction with the NCAA Women's Frozen Four (March 18 & 20).

The 10 finalists are (in alphabetical order): senior forwards Meghan Agosta (Ruthven, Ont./Mercyhurst College), Vicki Bendus (Wasaga Beach, Ont./Mercyhurst College) and Meghan Duggan (Danvers, Mass./Univ. of Wisconsin); sophomore defenseman Laura Fortino (Hamilton, Ont./Cornell Univ.); junior forwards Haley Irwin (Thunder Bay, Ont./Univ. of Minnesota Duluth), Rebecca Johnston (Sudbury, Ont./Cornell Univ.) and Hilary Knight (Sun Valley, Idaho/Univ. of Wisconsin); sophomore goaltender Noora Rätty (Espoo, Finland/Univ. of Minnesota); senior goaltender Molly Schaus (Natick, Mass./Boston College); and senior forward Kelli Stack (Brooklyn Heights, Ohio/Boston College).

The top-10 class for the 14th annual Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, presented by LECOM, represents all four women's college conferences – College Hockey America, ECAC Hockey, Hockey East and the Western Collegiate Hockey Association.

The award selection process began in late February, when NCAA Division 1 women's ice hockey coaches were asked to nominate players for the award. Players who were nominated by two or more coaches were then placed on an official ballot, which was sent back to the coaches to vote for the top 10 finalists. The independent accounting firm PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP, tabulated the ballots.

The three finalists, including the recipient of the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, will be chosen by a 13-member selection committee comprised of NCAA Division I women's ice hockey coaches, representatives of the print and broadcast media, an at-large member and a representative of USA Hockey, the national governing body for the sport of ice hockey in the United States.

The three finalists for this year's award will be announced March 10.

Notes: Among the 10 finalists are last year's winner Vicki Bendus and top-three finalist Noora Rätty. Prior to taking the 2009-10 season off for the 2010 Olympics, Meghan Agosta was a top-three finalist in 2007, 2008 and 2009, and Rebecca Johnston, Hilary Knight and Molly Schaus were all top-10 finalists in 2009. . . Six schools are resrepresented, including two finalists each from Boston College, Cornell University, Mercyhurst College and the University of Wisconsin. . . Among the finalists are seven forwards, two goaltenders and one defenseman, including five seniors, three juniors and two sophomores. . . Tickets to the ceremony are still available and may be purchased by calling 719-538-1184 or by submitting a completed ticket form (located at PattyKaz.com). Individual seats are $65, while tables of 10 are available for $600. . . Mike Ruzzi, sports director at WICU-TV (NBC) in Erie, Pa., will serve as the master of ceremonies, while Laura Halldorson, who led the University of Minnesota women's ice hockey team to three NCAA Division 1 national championships as head coach, will be the keynote speaker. Halldorson was recently announced as the 2011 recipient of the American Hockey Coaches Association's Women's Ice Hockey Founders Award. . . The 2011 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award Ceremony, presented by LECOM, will be broadcast live at USAHockey.FASTHockey.com. . . USA Hockey and the NCAA will team up once again to put on free girls' skills clinics in conjunction with the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award and the NCAA Women's Frozen Four. WCHA Women's Tie-Breaking Procedures • For Playoff Seeding Purposes Only

At the conclusion of the regular season, teams will be ranked by the number of points accumulated. If two teams are tied for first place, they will be declared co-WCHA champions.

The first round of the WCHA's post-season tournament will be a best-of-three games format at the home site of the teams ranked higher in the final regular season standings. All eight teams participate in the first round of the tournament. First round playoff pairings will be: #1 rank vs #8 rank, #2 rank vs #7 rank, #3 vs #6, and #4 vs #5. Following the four first round series, the four winning teams will be re-seeded #1 thru #4 according to their standings in the final WCHA in-season competition and will advance to the WCHA FINAL FACE-OFF.

In the event that ties are encountered in the determination of WCHA ranking or designation of home teams for playoff purposes, the following procedures will be used in the order given to break the ties:

- If two or more teams are tied, head-to-head competition during the regular (conference) season will be used to break the tie.
- If two or more teams are still tied after (a), the highest seed will go to the team with the most WCHA (conference) wins during the regular season.
- If two or more teams played a four-game series during the regular season and the teams have the same win-loss records for those series and the same number of WCHA wins, the team having the least number of goals scored against it in the four-game series shall have the higher rank. If two or more teams played a two-game series during the regular season, proceed to tie-breaker d).
- If two or more teams are still tied after applying the provisions of (a), (b) and (c), the team having the greatest "winning margin" during the regular season will have the higher rank. Winning margin = WCHA goals for during the regular season minus WCHA goals against.
- Games played against WCHA opponents in holiday tournaments will not be counted in the determinations.
- Shootout wins used during the regular season will not be counted in the determinations. Shootout games will be recorded as a tie in the determinations.

WCHA Team Notebooks • Final

Bemidji State Beavers

- The 2010-11 season saw continued improvement by Bemidji State. This year's squad set school records for the most conference wins in a single season (11) and the most home wins in a single season (9). The home record of 9-5-2 (.652) surpasses the 1999-2000 season when that year's team finished with a 8-7-2 (.592) home record.
- The Beavers finished in fifth place in the WCHA, the best in program history. Last season the Beavers finished tied for fifth in the WCHA. BSU has also finished fifth before in the WCHA, but never with an eight-team conference before.
- The senior class tallied a total of 72 points this season. Erin Cody, Erin Johnson and Annie Bauerfeld, combined for 32 goals and 40 assists, averaging 2.06 points per game. Over the course of four years the trio amassed a total of 244 points, 112 goals and 132 assists.
- Erin Cody became the first player in school history to record multiple seasons of scoring at least 20 goals. Scoring on Feb. 18 against Ohio State, Cody netted her 20th goal of the season, marking back-to-back seasons to put up 20 goals.
- Bratislava, Slovakia native and goaltender Zuzana Tomcikova made a total of 692 saves this season. In 28 games she recorded a .933 save percentage and a 1.84 goals-against average. Tomcikova currently owns the school record for most wins in a single season (12), surpassing last year's mark of 10. This season she also set the career mark for shutouts with 13 and shutouts in a single season with six. Her 1.84 goals-against average this season also surpasses the record she set last year after recording a 2.05 GAA. The .933 save percentage was just shy of her mark set last season at .938. Tomcikova currently sits in second place with 2,512 saves in her career, 563 saves short of catching Emily Brookshaw's record of 3,075 career saves.
- Bemidji State finished the season with the best conference penalty-kill with a 90.4% efficiency. The PK unit only allowed a total of nine power-play goals against in the 28 games of conference play.
- Sacrificing their bodies, the members of the BSU defense combined to block a total of 634 shots on the season.
- This season the Beavers have claimed four victories and three ties against nationally-ranked opponents – a 5-3 victory over then-No. 1 Mercyhurst on Oct. 16 was the first time Bemidji State has ever defeated a top ranked team. BSU ended an 11-year winless streak against Minnesota Duluth with a 1-0 victory on Nov. 5 and the Beavers picked up their third ever win over the Golden Gophers beating then-No. 7 Minnesota 2-0 in early December.

Minnesota Golden Gophers

- The University of Minnesota women's hockey team made its third-straight NCAA appearance this year. The Golden Gophers went on the road to Boson College and fell to the Eagles, 4-1. The 2010-11 campaign marked the ninth time in school history the Gophers advanced to the NCAA post-season (2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011).
- The Gophers finished the 2010-11 season with a 26-10-2 overall record and an 18-8-2 mark within conference play.
 - Minnesota had the No. 3 seed in the WCHA tournament championship, Minnesota drew No. 6 seed Ohio State in the First Round. The Gophers defeated OSU, 3-2 and 4-2, respectively, to advance to the WCHA FINAL FACE-OFF at Ridder Arena.
 - Facing Minnesota Duluth in the FINAL FACE-OFF semifinal, the Bulldogs scored first with a goal from Audrey Cournoyer. Minnesota, however, powered back as Amanda Kessel and Kelly Terry combined for four goals. Kessel scored her first collegiate three-goal hat trick, while Terry scored her 15th goal of the season en route to a 4-2 win. The Gophers then played Wisconsin for the WCHA playoff championship. Sarah Erickson put the Gophers up 2-0 vs the Badgers after one period of play. Sarah Davis then

- Golden Gopher goaltender Noora Rätty was named a Second Team All-American, her second All-America honor in two years. A top-10 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award finalist, the sophomore was also named a First Team All-WCHA selection. Playing in 35 games as a sophomore, Rätty had a goals-against average of 1.77 and a saves percentage of .941. Making the WCHA All-Tournament Team, Rätty had a 51-save performance against eventual NCAA champion Wisconsin on March 5 and 83 saves during the championship. On the year, Rätty held a 25-7-2 record, breaking a school record for wins in a season. She also had nine shutouts, which was tied for the nation's lead and set a school record. She also broke her own school record of 964 saves this season for the nation's sixth-best save percentage. Along with her athletic achievement, Rätty was named a WCHA All-Academic selection.
- The Golden Gophers were well-represented in the conference awards for 2010-11 as well. Rätty, along with Anne Schleper, were named First Team All-WCHA, while defenseman Megan Bozek and Amanda Kessel were named All-WCHA Third Team honorees. Kessel also walked away with the WCHA Rookie of the Year award, Minnesota's fifth overall rookie of the year award. The 2010-11 season marks the second-straight year Rätty and Schleper have been named on the first team. Bozek also collects her second All-WCHA honor as she was a second team selection last year. Along with the All-WCHA honors, freshman Kelly Terry and Baylee Gillanders was named to the WCHA All-Rookie Team, as well as award winner Kessel.

- The Gophers opened the first month of competition with a rough start, going 5-4-0 in October. However, Minnesota rebounded and finished the first half of the season, 13-6-0 heading into the winter break. After its 2-0 loss to Bemidji State (12/3/10), Minnesota went on a tear, going undefeated in the next 10 games. Finishing the regular season with a 23-8-2 overall record, Minnesota went 18-8-2 in the WCHA and a second-place tie in the league.
- Minnesota collected 11 weekly honors by six individuals this season. Amanda Kessel had four awards (rookie and offensive), while Noora Rätty had three (defensive). Minnesota Duluth Bulldogs

• The No. 7-ranked UMD Bulldogs ended their season with a hard-fought 2-1 loss to Wisconsin in the quarterfinals of the NCAA tournament at the Kohl Center in Madison March 12 in front of more than 4,000 fans. That game ended UMD's season at 22-9-3 overall, just one victory short of what would have been the Bulldogs' fifth-consecutive NCAA Frozen Four.

"It was an unbelievable hockey game, I thought it was very even and both teams could have won," said head coach Shannon Miller, who is now 4-3 in NCAA regional play since the eight-team format was introduced.

UMD broke a first period stalemate late in the opening stanza when Haley Irwin, to the right of UW goaltender Alex Rigsby on the pipe, wrapped the puck around a Badger defenseman to a wide-open Jessica Wong in the slot. Wong – no stranger to NCAA post-season success with both a game-winning goal in last season's NCAA Regional and NCAA title game – one-timed her shot through Rigsby's five-hole with just :28.3 seconds remaining in the first period.

After UMD outshot Wisconsin 12-11 in the opening period, the Badgers turned the tables in the second stanza. A power-play blast from the point at 3:06 turned into UW forward Hilary Knight's 47th goal of the season, and gave the Badgers the 1-1 equalizer. Wisconsin outshot UMD 16-5 in the second period, and 27-17 after the first 40 minutes of action.

The Badgers took the lead 7:34 into the third period, on a 3-on-2 which Meghan Duggan trailed on to get off a shot that was deflected for the go-ahead score. With ample chances in the final 12:00 minutes of play, UMD was put on the power-play with 6:00 remaining, but despite three shots over that time, Rigsby held up. Wisconsin then withstood :36 seconds of an empty Bulldog net, and the Badgers managed to not only keep their 22-game winning streak alive, but ended UMD's NCAA-leading four-straight Frozen Four appearances at four (2009-10, 2008-09, 2007-08 and 2006-07).

• Senior goaltender Kim Martin ends her collegiate career with a 1.52 goals-against average – the lowest GAA average by any UMD netminder who has played more than 20 games – after making 38 saves against the NCAA's top-rated offense. Martin ends her career with a record of 67-23-6, making her the winningest goaltender in Bulldog program history, and her saves percentage of .943 is the highest of any goaltender over a career in UMD's past twelve seasons.

• The Bulldogs have five seniors – Martin, Elin Holmlöv, Laura Fridfinnson, Jocelyne Larocque and Tara Gray, and with two NCAA titles (2010, 2008), two WCHA regular season titles and two WCHA Playoff titles (2010, 2008), as well as three-straight NCAA Frozen Four appearances, they leave UMD as one of the most successful senior classes in the history of the program.

• Jocelyne Larocque, the 2010-11 WCHA Defensive Player of the Year and Outstanding Student-Athlete of the Year, was named to the All-American team and also joined Irwin on Team Canada at the World Championships earlier this month in Switzerland.

Leinonen and junior defenseman Ariel Mackley led the team in power-play goals with two each, while McCann and Rogan finished with a team-best two game-winning goals each. Rogan finished the year with two shorthanded goals and three unassisted goals, both team-bests. Smith racked up a team-high 105 shots, while Rogan took the second most shots with 88. Wisconsin Badgers

No. 1-ranked Wisconsin (37-2-2, 24-2-2-2 WCHA) wrapped up a near-perfect season with a 4-1 victory over No. 3 Boston University in the 2011 NCAA Women's Frozen Four national championship game at Tullio Arena in Erie, Pa., on March 20.

- Senior forward Meghan Duggan was named the 2011 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award winner, honoring the Badger captain as the top player in NCAA Division 1 women's ice hockey. She became Wisconsin's third Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award winner, joining Sara Bauer (2006) and Jessie Vetter (2009).
- The Badgers brought home their fourth national championship after previously taking home the title in 2009, 2007 and 2006. This year marked Wisconsin's sixth NCAA national tournament appearance and fifth Frozen Four berth. UW is 14-2-0 in the national tournament for a .875 winning percentage.
- Wisconsin ended the season on a 27-game unbeaten streak, posting a 25-0-2 record since losing to Minnesota Duluth on Nov. 28, 2010. The Badgers capped the streak with a 14-game winning streak, Jan. 29 through March 20, after tying a pair of games against Minnesota Duluth and Minnesota in mid-January. The current streak is the second-longest unbeaten streak in program history. The program record stands at 32 games (28-0-4), a stretch running from Nov. 25, 2006 to Oct. 14, 2007. The present streak surpassed the Badgers' 2008-09 season-opening 20-game unbeaten streak (18-0-2) as the second-longest all-time.
- Wisconsin's win over Boston University in the national title game was the Badgers' 37th victory of the season (37-2-2), marking the most wins in a single season in NCAA women's hockey history. The previous mark of 36 wins was achieved three times – by Minnesota (36-2-2) in 2005, by Wisconsin (36-4-1) in 2006, and by Wisconsin (36-1-4) in 2007. UW also finished the season with a nation-best .927 winning percentage.
- Forward Hilary Knight became the third Badger and 16th player in NCAA history to hit 200 career points with her 200th and 201st points coming on a pair of assists against Boston College (March 18). She netted her 100th career goal against Bemidji State (Feb. 4), becoming the first Badger to reach 100 career goals. She finished her junior season with 112 goals and 90 assists for 202 career points.
- This season, Meghan Duggan became the second Badger and 13th

NCAA Division 1 women's hockey player all-time to reach 200 career points when she recorded three points on one goal and two assists against St. Cloud State (Jan. 14). Duggan ended her career as UW's program leader with 238 career points (108 goals, 130 assists).

- Sophomore forward Brianna Decker became the most recent Badger to join the century club when she recorded her 100th point with a shorthanded goal against North Dakota (March 4). She ended her sophomore season with 107 career points on 49 goals and 58 assists. Decker is the third Badger all-time to reach 100 career points in just two collegiate seasons.
- Junior Carlyne Prevost scored Wisconsin's first and last goals of the 2010-11 season. She netted the team's first goal just :15 seconds into the season-opener, a 7-0 win over RPI (Oct. 1). Prevost then buried an empty-net goal with 18 seconds remaining in the Badgers' 4-1 national championship win over Boston University (March 20).
- The Badgers won their fourth WCHA post-season tournament title (2011, 2009, 2007 and 2006) this season. Wisconsin rallied to defeat Minnesota, 5-4 in overtime, to take home the league's playoff championship crown at the 2011 WCHA FINAL FACE-OFF. Brianna Decker was named the tournament's most valuable player, and Kelly Nash joined Duggan and Geena Prough on the all-tournament squad after scoring the championship game-winner in overtime.
- Wisconsin also took home the league's regular season title in 2010-11, clinching its third WCHA regular season title with a 7-1 win over Bemidji State (Feb. 4). The title marked Wisconsin's first since earning back-to-back crowns in 2006 and 2007. The Badgers clinched the league title with five games remaining in the regular season and accepted the regular season trophy at the Kohl Center after its 8-4 win over North Dakota (Feb. 13).
- As a team, the 2010-11 Badgers set UW program records for winning percentage (.927), wins (37), goals (212), shorthanded goals (13), shots on goal (136) and plus/minus (+556).
